7th Grade Summer Reading

Read the short story and non-fiction article. Both pieces relate to the same time period. Use the questions and graphic organizer to record your ideas. You will use this information to write an essay the first week of class.

Fiction: "The King of Mazy May" by Jack London (1889)

1. Read the story and answer the questions in complete sentences. As you read, underline or highlight evidence of the theme survival. Use evidence from the text for the short answer questions.
2. Complete the plot diagram.

Nonfiction: "The Klondike Gold Rush" (1898)

1. Read the article and answer the questions. Use evidence from the text in the short answer questions.
2. As you read, underline or highlight passages that show the event had an effect on American history.
